New program

AT CHAMPLAIN COLLEGE

Electronic Game & Interactive Development

Prepare to enter one of the fastest growing areas of interactive media in the world! Trained professionals in this cutting-edge field are in high demand in many industries, including education, medical, military and space program training.

This new major features:

- Hands-on learning—Work in development teams to create a game from start to finish, preparing you for employment within this team-based, creative industry.
- Two different tracks—Game Design or Art and Animation. Are you a storyteller or an artist? Game Design students take a mix of courses from Interactive Storytelling and Cognitive Psychology to Computer Theory and 3D Animation. Art and Animation students build on a graphic foundation with courses in interactive design and 3D animation.
- State-of-the-art technology resources—Champlain's commitment to technology includes several new, cutting-edge multimedia, 3D animation and game production labs.
- Close to industry leaders—Montreal, Canada, 90 miles to the north, is the second-largest region in the world for game development. The Northeast is the second-largest region in the United States for game design.
- Expert instruction—This program is designed and taught by game development industry experts and award-winning professional game designers.
